

United States Air Force

Scientific Advisory Board

Dr. Brian L. Hunt

Northrop Grumman (retired)

EDUCATION:

Brown University

Ph.D., Engineering, 1967

Sc.M., Engineering, 1965

Cambridge University

B.A., M.A., Engineering, 1961

WORK EXPERIENCE:

Northrop Grumman Corporation

Consultant, Program Management and Engineering, 2000-Present.

Vice President, Engineering, Logistics and Technology, 1998-2000.

Program Manager F/A-18A/B/C/D Program, 1997-1998.

Manager, Product Definition F/A-18 Programs, 1993-1997.

Manager, Product Technology, 1992-1993.

Technology Manager, Advanced Tactical Fighter Program, 1987-1990.

Manager, F-5/F-20 Technology, 1985-1987.

Manager, Aerosciences Technology, 1984-1985.

Manager, Aerosciences Research, 1982-1984.

Manager, Propulsion Research, 1979-1982.

University of Maryland

Professor and Chairman, Department of Aerospace Engineering, 1990-1992.

University of Bristol, England

Lecturer and Reader in Aeronautical Engineering, 1967-1979.

Royal Air Force

Pilot Officer, Technical Branch, 1956-1958.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE:

Engineering and program management, systems engineering, systems development, technology development, aircraft systems, aerodynamics, air breathing propulsion.

PROFESSIONAL/SCIENTIFIC/HONORARY AFFILIATIONS:

Fellow of the Royal Aeronautical Society, Associate Fellow of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Chartered Engineer (UK).

CONTACT INFORMATION

Business telephone: (310) 291-8089

E-mail: BrianLHunt@aol.com
